

Firearm Inventory & Claim-Prep Checklist

A practical recordkeeping aid for firearm owners and collectors — Arsenal Vault

Use this checklist to keep an organized record before a loss, move, or claim. Follow your policy, carrier instructions, and applicable law. Do not send sensitive records to an unverified recipient.

Record each firearm

- Make and model
- Caliber or gauge
- Serial number
- Clear photos of the firearm and identifying marks
- Purchase date, seller, receipt, or other provenance record
- Current estimated value and valuation source
- Storage location
- Optics, magazines, suppressors, cases, or other accessories included
- Related documents, appraisals, and transfer or registration records, if applicable

Keep the record useful

- Store the inventory in a private, access-controlled location
- Keep a current export or backup that you can access if the primary location is unavailable
- Review the inventory after purchases, sales, transfers, moves, or major value changes
- Note the date of the last review: _____
- Record your carrier or agent's claims contact: _____
- Record your policy number or reference: _____

If a loss occurs

- Follow the carrier's claim-reporting instructions and obtain a claim number
- Preserve receipts, photos, appraisals, and other requested records
- Note when and where the loss was discovered
- Share only the information requested through the carrier's verified channel
- Keep copies of submitted records and correspondence

Optional private inventory tool

Arsenal Vault is a hosted inventory for serials, photos, values, and documents. It is free forever for up to 5 firearms; Basic is $1.99/mo for unlimited inventory.

Open Arsenal Vault: <https://arsenalvault.com>

Your data. Your control. Your vault.

Disclaimer: This checklist is for general educational and recordkeeping purposes only. It is not insurance, legal, or claims advice; it does not alter policy terms or determine coverage; and Arsenal Vault is not affiliated with or endorsed by any insurance carrier, brokerage, agency, or underwriter. Follow your policy and carrier's instructions.